Jamaica is very anxious to get into Uncle Sam's band wagon.

The peace commission will go to France between the 15th and 20th of this month.

The peace commission has been selected. It consists of Day, Froy, Davis, Reed and White.

On November 8 the question will be decided whether the next Congress will pull with President McKinley or against him. The people know that important problems must come up, and will not vote to create a deadlock.

Blanco has counseled the Spaniards in Cuba to become good citizens and obedient to the United States, and assures them that Uncle Sam will deal justly and honorably with them if they do so.

During the war the Government spent $2500 a day for cable dispatches and most of the money went abroad. The American people have not given to submarine telegraphing the attention it deserves.

The Republicans of Missouri in 1896 cast 45 per cent of the entire vote of the state, and yet elected only three of the fifteen Congressmen. There can be no fair representation in Missouri until the grip of the Bourbon ring is broken.

We are much pleased that the St. Louis convention named John R. Kirk as the party's candidate for Sup't. of Public Schools. If any Republican is elected at the November election, he has a better show than any other man nominated.

When the Grant monument was dedicated in 1897 the Spanish cruiser the Infanta Maria Teresa, was Spain's representative. The next time the ship appears in New York harbor she will fly our flag and be welcomed accordingly.

At one time in 1896 the gold reserve in the United States treasury, through fear of free coinage, dwindled to $44,563,493. It is now over $206,000,000, thanks to the confidence restored by the Republican financial policy.

Ohio Democrats have declared against expansion. Democratic platforms this year are a free for all. They support the affirmative and negative of every public question. It is rough on a famous statesman to hear this called Jeffersonian.

Why America Must Expand.

Some figures just compiled by the Bureau of Statistics at Washington show the necessity for American territorial expansion policy, one way or the other, is found in the report in which the figures appear. The figures give the imports and exports of manufactured iron and steel by fiscal years, beginning in 1880 and ending in 1898. In 1880 the value of the manufactures of these two metals imported $71,266,699 and of the exports $14,716,524. The value of the same articles in the year ending June 30, 1898, was $14,615,913 for imports and $70,367,527 for exports. That is to say, the relative position of the imports and exports of manufactures of iron and steel has been reversed since 1880. Then the country bought from the outside world five times as much in iron and steel articles as we sold. In the fiscal year just ended the country's purchases of these articles were only about one-sixth of its sales.

This is a surprising and significant exhibit. In the nineteen years under review the general direction of iron and steel imports has been steadily downward, and that of exports has been upward. Moreover, the three years just ended have been especially favorable. The iron and steel imports were $25,338,103 in 1896, 16,094,552 in 1897, and $12,615,913 in 1898, showing a rapid decline in those years. The expansion of the exports in the same time has been equally striking. They were $41,160,877 in 1896, $57,497,871 in 1897, and $70,367,527 in 1898. What is true of the manufactures of iron and steel is true of many of the other American products—the products of the farm, the mine and the factory. Americans are supplying a larger and larger share of their own wants every year, and furnishing a constantly and rapidly increasing proportion of the world's needs. Nothing in the history of our own or any other country equals the recent shrinkage in the extent of our purchase of many important manufactured articles abroad and the expansion of our sales of the same articles.

These trade statistics furnish a powerful argument for the expansion of our national territory. The home market is no longer adequate. This market will always be the country's principal reliance, but a steadily increasing amount of our goods will have to be sold in the outside world. The annexation of Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines will expand our outside markets and assist in keeping our producers of all sorts profitably employed. But these new markets alone will not suffice. We must make commercial conquests on the mainland in Asia. China must be kept open to the entrance of goods from all the countries on equal terms, as at present. The United States is not far from the head of the list of the great countries in the Chinese trade, and it is gaining faster than any other nation. We need a greater political influence in Asiatic affairs than we have had hitherto, and our Philippine acquisitions will give it to us. Territorial expansion is, therefore, a business necessity. Every farmer, mine-worker and factory operative in the United States will be benefited by the new and permanent markets for his products, which the coming accession of territory will come open to him.—G.D.

PROCLAMATION BY BLANCO.
Advices Spaniards in Cuba to Submit to American Rule.

Special Dispatch to the Globe-Democrat.

Washington, D. C., August 25.—The last and probably most interesting proclamation of Ramon Blanco as Governor General of Cuba has been published in the Diario de la Marina of August 17. It is addressed to the Spanish people of Cuba, and comes as the last counsel of a retiring officer. It is as follows:

My Dear Countrymen: We are vanquished, but we have fought and fulfilled our obligation to defend our obligation to defend our ever glorious flag, which this time has not been victorious.

We have been vanquished because we are Spaniards, but there is no human power which can force us to resign our glorious nationality, nor that can force us to blot out or weaken our allegiance to the religion of our country, always venerated by us, and whose strength has been more strongly impressed upon us in proportion to our disasters.

We have been vanquished, and without consideration of our birthplace, will be to-morrow as strangers in this country, and as emigrants to this portion of the earth, which until to-day and probably a few weeks more, is part of our Spanish fatherland.

As strangers and as the vanquished, I counsel you, the people of Cuba, whose hearts are Spanish, and who deeply feel the disgrace of their country, not to dispute any of the benefits which the triumph gives to the victors. It is our obligation now to be quiet; not to take any part in the different manifestations of a local political nature, and even to decline participation in such affairs, even if the right of franchise be offered us.

But you have one duty which should be a duty of love; that is to undertake the task of reconstruction of all your interests, and it is your duty also to ask for, even appear, if it become necessary, from your position as the vanquished, to the victors, for a guarantee for your personal safety and the protection of your proper interests.

If you do as I counsel you the United States will take care of your lives and your interests. My mission here will soon be finished, as will the sovereignty of Spain, and any one who feels that with honor to himself he may continue to call himself a Spaniard, will have to matriculate his name at the Spanish Consulate, which will be established in this city. I believe that I have done all that I could have done for her Majesty's loyal subjects. It was my duty to make war against the insurgents, who have never been grateful to Spain for her efforts in their behalf. I am convinced that there will be no further disputes between the Cubans and Spaniards on this island, for it is my belief that as soon as the Cubans commence to govern here, they will find out how useful are the Spaniards to them, and will finally concede to them the place they deserve in the government of the islands. Your compatriot.

Ramon Blanco.

THE PEOPLE'S GREAT FAIR.

From all indications the coming great Springfield District Fair will far eclipse all previous fair events in the history of the Southwest. It will be held at the magnificent Zoo Park, Springfield, Mo., September 13, 14, 15 and 16, 1898, and every one of the four days promises to be a big day. The grounds where the fair will be held are by odds the best and most suitable for a fair that can be found in the west, comprising one hundred and twenty acres of fully shaded park with an abundant supply of pure water, and the grand stand on the south side of the splendid race track will comfortably seat nearly ten thousand people. The Association is composed of nearly two hundred stockholders, representing all classes, and the management is sparing no pains nor expense to make it an occasion that will gratify and please everybody making it the popular fair, the people's fair in every respect.

Besides magnificent exhibits assured in all the departments, there will be numerous special features and great attractions that will entertain, instruct and amuse everybody, among them being ten grand bicycle events, in which a whole army of contestants will compete; thrilling balloon ascensions by one of the most daring aeronauts in the world; exciting trotting and pacing races and more lightning running races than have ever before been given at a fair in the great Southwest, etc., etc.

On the first day of the great (Sept. 13), all the school children under sixteen years of age will be admitted to the grounds free; and arrangements have been made to make the fair the greatest social reunion occasion in the history of Southwest Missouri, in which all the people can participate with pleasure and profit. Forty acres of finely shaded ground have also been set apart for camping purposes and this fine camping ground, with a superintendent to keep everything safe and preserve good order both day and night, is furnished free of charge to all who desire it.

For premium list and other information, our readers should write to the Secretary, J. G. Newbill, Springfield, Mo.

Trustee's Sale.

Notice is hereby given, that between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. on Friday September 2nd, 1898, at the Court House door, in the town of Forsyth, Missouri, I will as Trustee in a deed of trust executed by Adam Miers and Mary Miers, his wife, dated March 30, 1896, and recorded in book No. 2, page 244, in the Records office of Taney county, Missouri, at the request of the legal holder of the principal note therein described. Default having been made in the payment of said note, now past due, sell the north half of the south-east 1/4 quarter of section 16, township 24, range 19, containing 60.82 acres, to the highest bidder for cash in hand, to satisfy the conditions of said deed of trust and the cost of same.

C. H. Grooms,
Trustee.

SURVEYOR'S FEES.

An act of the Legislature, approved March 31, 1891, provides that County Surveyors be allowed $1.00 cents for each survey of one and a quarter miles or less; 40 cents for each plat; 50 cents for copy of plat and certificate; 50 cents for recording plat and certificate. These items foot up $2.50, the lowest charge made for any survey, and in addition to this amount there is a charge of 50 cents for each additional mile and $1.00 for each corner established. The Statute provides that County Surveyors perpetuate their surveys by establishing well defined corners, and it is not left merely to the opinion of the party having the survey made as to the number of corners necessary to perpetuate the work—that must be determined by the surveyor himself, charge of 50 cents for every mile of travel, each way, is allowed.

Random Surveys are mere guess work, neither accurate nor safe, and dear at any price. All communications relative to surveys, etc., promptly answered.

Homesteads. CONTESTS.

Parties desiring to make homestead claims, cash entries, contests or final proofs will find it to their interest to bring all such business to Wm. H. Johnson, office over Taney County bank, Forsyth, where they can have the advantage of consulting complete and accurate government plats of Taney county, corrected each week from advices directly from the U. S. office. He will correctly make out and file applications and transact all your business promptly, will take evidence of contests and final proofs at office, thereby saving you an expensive trip to Springfield. Will furnish plats of townships or parts of townships, and any information desired relating to vacant lands, upon application.

THE TRIBUNE PRIMER.

This is an original mirth provoking production by Eugene Field—written by him in his unique style in 1882, while editor of the Denver Tribune. The publication contains fifty-six pages. The proceeds of the sale of the book will be devoted to erecting a monument to the "gentle poet of childhood" at Columbia, Mo. Price, post paid 25 cents. Address—J. West Goodwin, Secretary and Treasurer, Sedalia, Mo.
